Letter from Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell to Dr. Alexander Graham Bell. 26 West 47th St., New York, N. Y. Sunday, March 23, 1903. My dear Alec:

I wish I knew what you were doing and how you were feeling this raw, wet day. Daisy hasn't felt so well, she says it's indigestion. I don't think it's anything to do with the operation. I cannot see that I am particularly needed here. The doctor said she could sit up Tuesday. Why shouldn't I go home Wednesday. Sarah will come and stay with her, and they will have a good time together. Why are you proposing to come Thursday? I want to go home and stay quietly with you awhile, I don't want to go home and have you leave me right off.

Mamma got your copy of Papa's resolutions, she was glad to get them. Won't you go over and see her when she comes home tomorrow, Monday night. I know she wants especially to see you, it will be refreshing to her to talk of other things beside clothes, etc. The wedding is to be May 6 , and they are very anxious to have you give them that dinner party. When can we have it? I want you to come forward to do something for Sister's child.

I have nothing more to say except that I love you, and want to know how you are.

Yours ever, Mabel. On envelope: Much love for my Daddysan from Daidums
